

2014 I3 Awards – Invigorate and Innovate and Inspire!

Evelyn Figueroa, MD, University of Illinois at Chicago

Organizer for the Maternity Care Collaborative

Nominated by Tabatha Wells, MD and also Kathleen (Kallie) Macken, MD

“She is energetic and always makes everyone just as excited and happy as she is! She has made the Maternal Care Collaborative a successful endeavor.”

Jim Letts, MD – HealthEast Roselawn Clinic, St. Paul, Minnesota

Participant in the Community and Population Health Collaborative

Nominated by Gloria

For Partnering with the Karen (from Burma) Community

Dr. Richard Sagall, NeedyMeds

Lead Presenter in Helping Your Patients Obtain the Medications They Can’t Afford Pre-conference Workshop

Nominated by David T. Walsworth, MD

“He has dedicated much of his professional life to helping more patients than any single family doc could alone.”

Shailey Prasad and “Beth” - University of Minnesota, North Memorial Family Medicine Residency

Global Health Collaborative

Nominated by Mari Egan, MD

“They are my new global health social justice heroes. They inspired me to be a mindful global health educator who preaches with ethical care.”

Peter Meyers, MPH, student, University of Minnesota

Presenter: Discussion Panel on Coordinating Care for Super-Utilizers

Nominated by Kally Macken, MD

For his outstanding Question format of the presentation due to Peter’s leadership.

Wendy Biggs, MD - University of Kansas Medical Center

Presenter: Don’t Let Them Bug You

Nominated by Emilia Vesper

“Loved your presentation. You taught well and made us laugh. Thank you for that great information and tidbits of advice!”

Renee Crichlow, MD – University of Minnesota North Memorial Family Medicine Residency

Presenter, The Ladder

Nominated by Giselle De la Rosa Berrio

“Very passionate about health policy. Very informative and encouraging”

1-3 Awards continued

Lacey Running Hawk, MD

Speed Date Your Specialty Presenter

Nominated by Mari Egan, MD

She invigorated me by reminding us of the stereotypes we hold regarding Native Americans and inspired me to create a didactic in my clerkship on Native American Healthcare

Ildiko Martonffy, MD and Thomas Hahn, MD - University of Wisconsin, Dept. of Family Medicine

Presenters: Managing Common Dental Health Concerns

Nominated by Emilia Vesper

“In school we don’t hear much about dental problems and it was good to learn more about it and share resources to help our patients.”

Nicole Steineke – University of Chicago NorthShore Family Medicine Residency

Presenter: Teaching Contraception Using CDC Guidelines for Women with Co-Morbidities

Nominated by Matthew Thomas

Gave a very well –prepared talk and gave information I can use in everyday practice with Oral contraceptive prescribing.